Transport of Dogs and Cats in Truck Beds

Recommendation

that a report be submitted to City Council recommending that the City Solicitor be instructed to amend Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860, to restrict the transportation of dogs and cats in truck beds and open top cargo areas, as outlined in this report.

Topic and Purpose

The purpose of this report is to amend Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860 to restrict the transportation of dogs and cats in truck beds and open top cargo areas and to establish a fine structure for this offence.

Report Highlights

1. Unrestrained transportation of animals within city limits is a safety concern for the animal and for other motorists. To address similar safety concerns, other municipalities are already enforcing similar bylaws.
2. The Administration recommends amending Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860 to establish a fine structure for the unrestricted transportation of dogs and cats in truck beds and open top cargo areas. The fine for the first offence is $100 and escalates to $200 for a second offence, and $300 for a third offence.
3. Enforcement for the proposed amendment would fall under the authority of the Saskatoon Police Services (SPS).

Strategic Goal

This report supports the long-term strategy to ensure the City of Saskatoon (City) maintains a proactive approach to the priority of health and safety under the Strategic Goal of Continuous Improvement.

Background

On June 27, 2013, the Animal Control Advisory Committee (ACAC) resolved that a report be forwarded to the Administration and Finance Committee to consider prohibiting the unrestrained transport of dogs in truck beds and open top cargo areas.

The report shared concerns about animal and motorist safety (see Attachment 1).

At its July 16, 2013 meeting, the Administration and Finance Committee resolved that this matter be referred to the Administration for a report.

Transport of Dogs and Cats in Truck Beds

Report

Animal and motorist safety is an important concern for the residents of Saskatoon, and the Administration is committed to proactively managing these concerns. One of the purposes of Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860 is to "control and regulate cats and dogs." In an effort to maintain regulation consistency, the Administration determined that both dogs and cats were in need of safe transport while in truck beds and open top cargo areas; therefore, has adjusted the recommendation to reflect this consistency.

The unrestrained transportation of dogs and cats in an open truck bed or open top cargo area poses numerous risks for both the animal and for drivers alike. The main concerns are:

- a) the potential for injury to other motorists sharing the roadway in the event an animal jumps or is ejected from the back of a moving vehicle; and
- b) the safety of animals during transport. Health consequences for animals riding unrestrained in truck beds or open top cargo areas range from eye, ear, and nose damage caused by wind/dust and debris, to broken limbs, dismemberment, or death caused from jumping or being ejected from the vehicle.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) International recommends that if transportation of an animal in a truck bed is necessary, that the animal is restrained, preferably in a crate or carrier secured to the truck. Similarly the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) suggests that animals are securely fastened or confined during vehicle transportation and recommends the use of dog seat belts, crates, and car barriers while transporting animals. The ASPCA also classifies transporting dogs unrestrained in truck beds as animal cruelty.

Other municipalities, such as Cambridge, ON; Calgary, AB; Medicine Hat, AB; Okotoks, AB; and Winnipeg, MB, are also enforcing similar transportation restrictions (see Attachment 2).

Fine Structure

The majority of fines within Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860 are $100 for a first offence, $200 for a second offence, and $300 for a subsequent offence. Examples of this fine structure include the following:

- a) a cat or dog being at large;
- b) a prohibited dog in off-leash area;
- c) allowing dog to become nuisance in off-leash area;
- d) failing to accompany dog in off-leash area;
- e) failing to carry leash in off-leash area;
- f) failing to restrain and remove nuisance dog from off-leash area;
- g) operating a motor vehicle in an off-leash area; and
- h) a cat or dog in prohibited areas.

Transport of Dogs and Cats in Truck Beds

One exception to this fine structure is Failure to License, which is a $250 fine for the first offence, $300 for the second offence, and $350 for any subsequent offence.

The Administration recommends the fine structure of $100 for a first offence, $200 for a second offence, and $300 for a subsequent offence be applied to this bylaw amendment. In addition to being congruent with other fines within Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860, this fine structure is similar to fines within other municipalities that regulate the transportation of dogs and cats in truck beds.

City	Minimum Fine	Maximum Fine
Cambridge, ON	$100	$500
Calgary, AB	$95	Subject to Court Summons
Medicine Hat, AB	$150	$150
Okotoks, AB	$100	$200
Canmore, AB	$200	N/A
Winnipeg, MB	$100	$300

Enforcement

The SPS is the only traffic control agency authorized to enforce moving violations; therefore, would be the enforcing agency for this bylaw amendment. Saskatoon Animal Control Agency (SACA) is not authorized to pull over a moving vehicle.

Public and/or Stakeholder Involvement

This matter was first discussed at the ACAC in May 2013. It was determined that further research was required. A secondary follow-up report was submitted to the ACAC in June 2013. At its June 2013 meeting, it was resolved that a report be forwarded to the Administration and Finance Committee recommending the amendment to Animal Control Bylaw, 1999, No. 7860 to prohibit the unrestrained transport of animals in truck beds and open top cargo areas. The ACAC recommended a minimum fine of $100 be imposed on violators.

Communication Plan

If a bylaw amendment is approved by City Council, Administration will distribute education materials and information surrounding the bylaw amendment. This information will be distributed through social media, the City's website, and existing marketing strategies. A news release will also be circulated if City Council approves an amended bylaw.

Other Considerations/Implications

There are no options, policy, environmental, financial, privacy, or CPTED implications or considerations.

Due Date for Follow-up and/or Project Completion

No further follow-up is required.

Transport of Dogs in Truck Beds/Open-Top Cargo Areas

Problem: Saskatoon currently has no bylaw in place to provide for adequate minimum protection of dogs with respect to being transported in truck beds and/or open-top cargo areas

General Info:

-the main concern is the very real danger of an unrestrained dog jumping from, or being flung from, an open truck bed; this poses huge risk to both the animal, and to the other motorists on the road

-risks include:

- Eye, Ear & Nose Damage

Being in the open air traveling at high speeds can cause damage to the delicate parts of the dog's face. The swirling of the air currents in the bed of a pickup truck can cause dirt, debris and insects to become lodged in the dog's eyes, ears, and nose.

- Being Ejected from the Truck

In cases of vehicle collisions or sharp braking, the dog is at serious risk of being flung from the vehicle. If the dog is improperly tethered in the vehicle, neck/spine injuries, as well as being dragged are all very real risks.

- Jumping

It is impossible to predict what stimuli may entice a dog to jump from the vehicle; exposure to other animals, vehicles, wildlife, people, smells, etc, all lead to the danger of dogs jumping from the truck if not properly secured. Oftentimes, the result is broken limbs, and in some cases, de-gloving. Frequently, euthanasia is the result.

-The Canadian Veterinary Journal reviewed 70 cases of dogs that sustained injuries due to being in truck beds unrestrained; Case records of 70 dogs injured while riding in the back of open pickup trucks during the period January 1, 1982, to May 1, 1993, were reviewed. Most dogs were young (mean age 2.4 y) and of medium to large size (average weight 22.6 kg). Sixty-five dogs (93%) were injured during the months of April through October. Forty-nine dogs (70%) had single injuries and 21 dogs (30%) sustained multiple injuries. Fractures were the most frequent injury incurred, with fractures of the femur the most common. Surgical repair was recommended in all but 2 cases.

-the ASPCA classifies transporting dogs unrestrained in truck beds as animal cruelty; many Canadian SPCAs officially advise against such transport

-in the past, few Canadian municipalities have had specific laws requiring proper restraint of dogs; in the past 10 years, British Columbia and Alberta municipalities have begun to pilot such bylaws

Examples from other Municipalities:

Cambridge

Re: Request for Proposals – Administration and Implementation of the Pet Reward Program

City Clerk's approval is required as this is a Request for Proposals (RFP) under $75,000.

Animal Services offers a Pet Reward Program to encourage and reward Saskatoon residents to license their pets. As part of the program, local businesses (or "program partners") sign on to support this rewards program by offering discounts to residents who present a Pet Reward card at the time of purchase.

This program is currently contracted to The StarPhoenix for administration and implementation. In February 2014, The StarPhoenix notified Animal Services that they will not be renewing the contract for the program as they have received direction from their Corporate Head Office that micro-websites, such as mypetmatters.ca, are being phased out. The current contract with The StarPhoenix will expire on September 30, 2014.

The Pet Reward Program is a necessary program to incentivize pet owners to license their animals. The purpose of this RFP is to invite interested proponents to prepare and submit competitive proposals for the administration, implementation, and management of an annual Pet Reward Program and platform.

Funds for this purchase have been approved by City Council and are available in the 2014 Advisory Committee on Animal Control (ACAC) Operating Budget.

The City Clerk's Office is required to authorize the Purchase Requisition for Purchasing Services, Assessment and Financial Management Department, to advertise an RFP for the administration and implementation of the Pet Reward Program.
